

Playing in one of the United States Golf Association's national championships represents the pinnacle of a golfer's career.

BE A PART OF IT...

experience the excitement, prestige and thrill of competition that comes with playing in a national championship.

If you're a female amateur golfer and have a USGA Handicap Index® of 5.4 or lower, you can compete for one of the most prestigious titles in women's amateur golf — the U.S. Women's Amateur Championship.

There is an 18-hole qualifying round for the national championship, and the deadline to enter is 5 p.m. (EDT) on June 25, 2014. To apply and to find a qualifying site near you, please visit www.usga.org and click on Championships.

August 4-10, 2014
U.S. Women's Amateur Championship
Nassau Country Club, Glen Cove, N.Y.

